World Youth report

Congratulations to Jeffrey Xiong of Plano on winning the silver in the World Youth Under 10 Championship! He tied for first with 9/11 but lost the gold on tiebreaks to Jason Cao of Canada. Tommy He placed 15th with 7

Team USA was out in strength and force this year, with 40 players and a coaching staff that included Sam Palatnik, John Federowicz and Aviv Friedman. The event was held Oct. 20-30 in Halkidiki, Greece.

The big news was in the Under 18 championship, where Steven Zierk of Los Gatos, CA won the gold with an undefeated 9.5/11, clinching the IM title and making a GM norm. The other US medallist was NM Kayden Troff of Utah, who won silver in Under 12.

Honorable mention goes to Texans Emily Nguyen, who placed 9th (7.5/11) in Under 8 Girls; and to WCM Sarah Chiang, who placed 23rd (6.5/11) in Under 14 Girls.

Texas Girls' Scholastic

Fifty-eight players turned out for the Texas Girls' Scholastic Championship, held Oct. 2-3 in Corpus Christi. In the high school section Ivana Santos and Kristin Ramos tied for first with 4-1, ahead of five other players. Texas Tech University awarded a $1,000 scholarship to the winner. The option to play a blitz playoff was passed on, so on tiebreaks the scholarship went to Ivana Santos from Hanna High School in Brownsville.

Yvonne Trang won clear first with 5-0 in the middle school division, with eight players competing. The largest section was elementary with 19 players, won by Priya Trakru with 4.5. Evelyn Karabanoff won the nine-player primary section with 5. Sarah Diaz won the K-1 division (15 players) with 5. TD Dan DeLeon said this was the best turnout in four years.

A nonrated parent/daughter tournament was held Friday night, with 14 teams participating. The winning team was Hector and Kristin Ramos from San Benito.

Denker Tournament of HS Champions

by Bob Shao

I recently came back from the Denker Tournament of High School Champions (July 31-Aug. 3) held in Irvine, CA. Getting to meet and talk with other high school state champions from around the country, play blitz games and analyze with fellow peers was a great overall experience for me. It was also a nice opportunity to revisit my old childhood in Los Angeles, where I lived for seven years. Everything from my elementary school to our old house had been completely renovated from what I could remember (unfortunately not much).

In terms of my chess, my play was very unsteady to say the least. I knew the Denker was a tough tournament, but my form was a very unpleasant surprise throughout the tournament. There were many games involving getting passive hopeless positions, frequent miscalculations, and getting into time trouble.

In my second game against a 2000 player, I was better in the middle game but lost the thread in the position and reached a complicated, but probably much worse double rook ending. My opponent was in serious time trouble, however, relying on only the 30 second increment and I got lucky when he blundered a rook. I wasn't as fortunate in the next game, however. After reaching a dubious position, I missed a serious chance for counterplay and duly lost afterwards.

After grinding out a win in the fourth round, I was again losing in the fifth round to another 2100 player, but managed to make a miraculous save in a crazy endgame that involved 5(!!!) queens and a frantic time scramble.

After this win, I was somehow still in contention to win the tournament despite playing some of my worst chess in recent memory. I went into the last round half a point behind the leader and eventual winner, Steven Zierk. The last game, unfortunately, was a complete disaster.

I was confused in the opening against Washington State representative Alex Guo and quickly reached a much worse position. I tried to obtain some counterplay, but was quickly pushed back and went down without much of a fight.

A very disappointing last round game, but I learned a great deal from this tournament. I think I played too passively, with lots of inaccurate moves which slowly led to my downfall. Though I was not happy with my performance I still had a wonderful time, with the fond memory of representing the great state of Texas in the Denker tournament.

Mauricio Flores wins U.S. Class

by NTD Franc Guadalupe

GM Mauricio Flores, a second-year student at University of Texas at Brownsville, was the big winner at the U.S. Class Championships, held Oct. 1-4 in Houston. Going into the last round Mauricio was a full point ahead of the field, and his fifth-round draw against fellow UTB student and top seed GM Timur Gareyev clinched the title. This was a hard-fought, 40-move game between teammates, as Timur had a chance to tie for first with a win.

Ramirez, Cornejo tie at Southwest Open

The Southwest Open was held Sept. 3-6 on the top floor (11th) of the Best Western Marina Grand Hotel, Corpus Christi. The playing area had full-glass walls on two sides, giving the 110 players attending a great view of the marina and the bay!

Tying for first were GM Alejandro Ramirez and Max Cornejo with 5.5/7. Tying for 3rd were Marko Zivanic, Ioan Chirila and Julio C. Sadorra with 5/7 each.

National Chess Day celebrated across the land

Texas Tech in Lubbock held a Chess Day event at 10 a.m. in SPICE Chess Park.

Did you know Oct. 9 was National Chess Day? Neither did I!

National Chess Day has been around as a concept since 1976. President Ford issued a letter in support of National Chess Day, but it slowly faded away over the years. It became a half-remembered celebration because it wasn't official.

It became more official on Sept. 29, 2010, when the U.S. Senate in SR 672 proclaimed Oct. 9, 2010 as National Chess Day, to "encourage the people of the United States to observe 'National Chess Day' with appropriate programs and activities."

National Chess Day was started in South Carolina by the late Bill Dodgen, who was President of the South Carolina Chess Association™ for a number of years. It was originally a state chess day in South Carolina, but Bill quickly expanded it to a nationwide effort, and was appointed National Chess Day Chairman. Bill's idea was to encourage local and state chapters to organize events to bring in beginners and others who enjoyed the game of chess but had never played in an organized event.

Chess Life Online reported on the following Texas events:

Denton, Texas by Dr. Alexey Root: The Jack E. Singley Academy (JESA) of the Irving Independent School District celebrated National

Chess Day 2010 by holding the Scott Watson Memorial Chess Tournament. JESA's first scholastic chess tournament awarded $1,000 in scholarships, numerous trophies, and a medal for every one of the 108 participants. Full coverage of the tournament will be in the Dec. 2010 issue of Chess Life for Kids with an article by Dr. Alexey Root (pdf).

Corpus Christi, by Ivan Wijetunge: Corpus Christi celebrated National Chess Day by holding a four-round G/60 event. As the name BBQII suggests, the entry fee also included a delicious meal, cooked up by TD and GM (grill master) Eddie Rios.

Darwin Yang earns 2nd IM norm at SPICE Cup

13-year-old Darwin Yang clinched his second IM norm with a round left to go at the SPICE Cup B group round robin. The event, named for the Susan Polgar Institute for Chess Excellence, was held at Oct. 28-Nov. 7 at Texas Tech University.

Darwin earned his first earlier this year at the Spring SPICE Cup.

GM Anatoly Bykhovsky and GM Gergely Antal of Israel tied for first in the B group with 6/9.

In the A group, Alexander Onischuk took first place under the three points for a win system. 1. GM Onischuk 18.0 +3 2. GM Meier 17 points +3 3-4. GM Almasi (+2), GM So (+1) 14.0 5-6. GM Robson, GM Perelshteyn 7.0.

US Class, contd. from p. 5

The U.S. Class was held at the Hilton Houston Hobby Airport Hotel, the site of this year's record-breaking U.S. Junior Open.

The main event attracted 234 players and an additional 105 students played in the Scholastic event. With four Grandmasters and six International Masters in attendance, it was probably the strongest U.S. Class ever. The games were hard-fought and full of excitement. Also exciting to the players was the fact that inasmuch as we had 195 full-paid entries, we paid 100 percent ($10,750) of the b/200 full-paid entries prize fund. All players in the Unrated and Class E divisions, and Juniors in the Class C and D paid a reduced rate. Also in attendance, as a player, was the Executive Director of the USCF, Mr. Bill Hall. A last-round defeat cost Bill a share of second place among Experts, but he still finished with a respectable 3/5.

The event was organized and directed by Franc Guadalupe. Susan Breeding was floor chief, and Leonard Fusselman assisted her. Many of the top games were transmitted live and are available on Monroi. Luis Salinas from the Dallas Chess Club took care of the Monroi transmission and assisted on the floor.

Chess Day, contd. from p. 14

There were two sections, 1300+ with 11 players and under 1300 with 6.

It was a memorable day for me. Not only did I win the top section, I also got my rating over 1900 for the first time. I have been trying to get an expert's rating for several years (and have been blogging on my progress), but had not had much progress until recently. I hope I can get the remaining 91 points in short order.

This is my the last round game:

Daniel Fernandez wins October G/60 Slammer

IM Daniel Fernandez, a graduate of UT Brownsville, won the October Slammer, 4.5-.5, winning $175. He had draw odds going into the last round, and forced an early draw against Malazarte.

Tied for second with 4-1 were Selby Anderson and Ernesto Malazarte ($52.50 each). Also scoring 4 were Joel Saucedo and Nathanael Lozano, who shared 1st-2nd Class A ($52.50 each). Five players tied for 1st-2nd Class B with 3-2 scores: Jonathan Manion, Charles Davis, Daniel Lozano, Brett Hendrick and Kevin Yang ($24.60 each). Four players scored 2 points to share U1600+U1400: Dan Castillo, David Pacheco, Sadia Qureshi and Nathan Ray Lozano ($44 each).

Martin Gordon directed a field of 31 players for the San Antonio Chess Club.

A note to anyone who decides to withdraw from a tournament: not only is it considerate to notify the TD that you are withdrawing - it would be better to ask for a zero point bye if there is just one round to go! Charles Ventimiglia would have been in line for first U1600 if he had done so! The USCF rulebook (32C1 states): "Unless the director decides otherwise, players who fail to complete the tournament are not entitled to prizes."

Team UTD beats Indian rivals in Internet faceoff

Video system enables battle between competitors separated by 10,000 miles

Oct. 25, 2010 – The UT Dallas chess team prevailed against top-rated players from India in an exhibition match between opponents who faced each other across a distance of almost 10,000 miles.

Cisco Systems Inc. furnished its TelePresence technology for the Oct. 16 match to both teams, allowing seamless play for the rapid-style chess match. UT Dallas' four-man team played from Cisco's Richardson facility while the six collegiate chess masters playing for the Chennai District Chess Association gathered in Chennai for the rounds. Chennai, formerly Madras, is located in the southern Indian state of Tamil Nadu.

The UT Dallas players appreciated the immediacy TelePresence provided for the match.

"We could see our opponents perfectly, as if we were in the same room and not almost 10,000 miles apart," said International Master (IM) Marko Zivanic (BS '09), a PhD student in the Erik Jonsson School of Engineering and Computer Science. "The image resolution was really high, and we could hear what they were saying without any delay. The fact that we could see our opponents' facial expressions and behavior during games, which is not typical for an Internet match, made the encounter more intense. We could tell what our opponents thought about positions."

After two rounds, UT Dallas emerged victorious with a final score of 5-3.

"The line-ups of the two teams had very similar player ratings," said chess program Director Jim Stallings. "There were again many twists and turns due to the rapid rate of play, but the UT Dallas victory was decisive in the second round."

The match was the first outing for the team's newest grandmaster, GM Cristian Chirila, a freshman who is studying international political economy in the School of Economic, Political and Policy Sciences.

"Overall, the match was a great success, although a very competitive one," said Chirila. "Of course we are happy because we won it."

The match represented the first time the UT Dallas chess team played college-level players from India. Since its inception in 1996, the chess team has played teams from four other countries.

The UT Dallas chess team will next face the University of Belgrade via Internet for the fifth year in a row on Nov. 5. All 16 games may be viewed on the Internet Chess Club beginning at 1 p.m. CST.

The TelePresence system made UT Dallas' competitors appear to be seated directly across the table when they actually were playing in Chennai, India. Cisco Systems lent the UT Dallas team its system for the Oct. 16 match.

UPDATE: The UT Dallas chess team fell to opponents from the University of Belgrade on Nov. 5, bringing the Comets' three-year winning streak in the annual Transatlantic Cup to an end. The match ended with a final point tally of 11.5-4.5 in favor of Belgrade's team.

About those TCA Minutes ...

As we go to press, the minutes of the TCA meeting at the Southwest Open are still a work in progress. TCA Secretary Stephanie Ballom is working from a recording.

Some of you may also wonder what happened to the Round 7 games from the Southwest Open. This editor left early to drive home ahead of the approaching tropical storm. When I contacted TD Franc Guadalupe, he referred me to the organizer, Lakshmana Viswanath, who in turn referred me to Franc Guadalupe!

I can tell you that Alejandro Ramirez took a quick pro forma draw, while Max Cornejo had to defeat Bercys to share first.
