Hello Texas,

We are running a bit late with this issue due to the fact that the Texas State and Amateur Tournament was held over Memorial Day Week-end and I needed to wait for results.

Note: This is the month before the TCA Elections. So, here are some important reminders...

- 1. The next issue (July-August) is the one in which any candidates planning on running for Texas Chess Association President, Vice President, Secretary or Treasurer can introduce themselves and indicate why they should be elected/re-elected. As a candidate, you automatically get 1/2 page free in Texas Knights to introduce yourself and your vision for the TCA. A photo to accompany your intro is welcome. You are also welcome to purchase additional space at standard advertising rates. I need to have your submissions no later than July 10th. To both new candidates, and those up for reelection: We need to know if you are a candidate this year and what position you're running for. It's hard to include you on the ballot if we don't know you are running. Even if you choose not submit an introduction for publication, we still need to know you are going to run. Currently, I have no confirmations.
- 2. And ... this is the last issue that I can remind you that if we don't have a valid email address for you, or you haven't requested a paper ballot by July 1st, you will not be able to vote in the upcoming elections. Ballots will be emailed/mailed sometime very close to July 15th. This is before the next issue will be distributed. So, the deadline ofis less than a month away. Also remember, You must also be an active member on July 1st.

Even though we covered all of the games played by WGM Sabina-Francesca Foisor from the U.S. Championships in this issue of Texas Knights, there are also additional games, by other players, in the June issue of Chess Life. Keep in mind that there was more than one participant that represented Texas in the Women's section (including some that played against her in this issue).

Also, check out the article in the 2nd issue of American Chess Magazine about GM Jeffery Xiong and his win in the World Junior Championships.

I'm hoping that the next issue will be in your mailbox around the first week of August. Until then have fun and be safe.

— Jeff French

From the Desk of the TCA President

Hello everyone, I just returned from Super Nationals in Nashville. I am tired but very happy to say that Texas was well represented at this event. I saw quite a few players and coaches from our state. So far, we have had Texas Teams, Texas Junior Teams, Texas Open, and several other events hosted at region level. In addition, the Dallas area held the Texas State and Amateur tournaments at the end of this month. But we are not done yet, not by a longshot! Another upcoming tournament needs your help and support. Jim Hollingsworth, is hosting the Texas Armed Forces and Texas Veterans tournaments. The entry fee is free for those qualifying, however, in lieu of expenses, he is asking anyone wishing to help with a donation to help the event, please contact our treasurer Barbara Swafford at texaschess.org. Your donation will be greatly appreciated. Second, don't forget to do two things, first, US Chess is having elections for executive board member, Vish is enthusiastically anticipating your vote to help put a Texas representative on that board. You must activate yourself as a voting member in order to receive a ballot and vote. Also, Texas Chess Association is hosting the Southwest Open this year, Luis Salinas will be organizing it. We are hoping to have the numbers to complete a norms tournament requirement. Thank you, see you at the boards.

Vote for our own Lakshmana "Vish" Viswanath for USCF Board this June

I am Lakshmana "Vish" Viswanath. I served the Texas Chess Association (a 501c3) as a Vice President for four years and as President for another four years until August of 2016. I am also an NTD and NA. I love to play chess and ran several scholastic and adult tournaments. Chess grew tremendously in Texas during the past decade, in part due to my leadership and support.

I hold three Masters level degrees in Meteorology, Computer Science, and Counseling Psychology and worked in universities for about 25 years and have been a successful small business owner for the past 10 years. I have served as TD at several Supernationals and am excited to serve at the USCF Board level.

As a child I learned how to play Chess and mostly played for fun. I never got back into chess until my sons were in primary school. Initially when they were playing, I will be wandering the hallways. Slowly but surely, I started volunteering and helped when ever I could. My sons have left school/home and I am still continuing my passion for chess and run several tournaments and promote chess whenever/ wherever I can.

Just this past weekends in March we had two Scholastic championships here in Texas. The North one had 481 players and the South one 1397 players. This is the first year we split the tournament into North and South as we could not keep them together with the growing numbers. Both the tournaments were a great success. I was the Chief TD for both of these events. In the past years I had also run the TCA's major open tournaments South West Open and Texas State and Amateur, among others.

I will be joining the Board with no personal agendas and will do everything to promote chess. I fully understand that this position is voluntary. I will neither have mail outs nor campaign promises. I am semi-retired and have ample time to dedicate to the Board. I hope that you consider my candidacy and vote for me. You can reach me in Facebook under Vish Viswanath. Thank you. Your support is appreciated.

Texas Finishes Second in Red River Shootout Classic

Texas Falls Short, 15-13, in Annual Team Match By Jim Hollingsworth, RRSO Chief TD

(Davis, OK. 29 April 2017). Texas lost to Oklahoma, 15-13, in the 15th Red River Shootout (RRSO XV), the annual team match between the most fanatical chess players in both states. This was the Texans' third loss in a row.

The home team, Oklahoma, quickly charged ahead by 4 points. However, Texas, playing with the white pieces, roared back to tie at 6 to 6. Then Oklahoma scored for a 7 to 6 lead. Returning Texan Carmen Chairez and Oklahoma legend Bruce Wells, in what has to be the longest game in RRSO history, battled to a draw. That gave the Okies a 7-1/2 to 6-1/2 halftime lead.

Early in the second half, Texas surged past Oklahoma for a, 9-1/2 to 7-1/2, two point lead. Things were looking good for the Texans and the hotel staff started chilling champagne in the Texas locker room. But, the Okies battled back to tie at 10-1/2 to 10-1/2. From there it was a see-saw battle until everything was knotted at 13-All. Under match rules, Oklahoma only needed 14 points to tie, retain the title, and win the new Frank Kim Berry RRSO Trophy. Finally, that epic 14th point for Oklahoma came, thanks to a powerful endgame finish, on Board 6.

Tarrant County Chess Club (TCCC) President Tom Crane walked over and congratulated Oklahoma Chess Foundation (OCF) President Jim Berry and Oklahoma Chess Team Captain Joe Dean Veal. Then, all quickly gathered around Board 4 and watched the final contest. About five minutes later, Texas legend Aurelio Gonzales lost a heart breaking nail biter for Oklahoma's final point.

All participants gave a moment of silence to remember the late Frank Kim Berry, who directed and played in thirteen of the fifteen RRSO's. In honor of his memory, the new Frank Kim Berry RRSO Trophy was also unveiled. The trophy's cost was fully covered by generous contributions from several players. Their names will be recorded on the RRSO website (http://rrsochess.net).

Two Texas standouts, RRSO rookie Azzama Bochenkova and Tom Crane, "aced" their Okie opponents with 2-0 sweeps. Ms. Bochenkova also climbed above the 2000 threshold for the second time in her career.

The FIDE Connection

After the match, chess analyst Victor Yaward said he felt Texas should have won and theorized why that didn't happen. "Texas went into this match with an 84-point average ratings advantage. This was especially huge on the bottom seven boards (204 average ratings point surplus). Texas won those boards by a combined 8 to 6 score."

"The top half, however," Victor Yaward went on to explain, "... featured an Oklahoma team with extensive international experience. Five of the top seven Okies have FIDE ratings. Three of them scored 2-0 sweeps (Boards 3, 4 and 6). The Okies overwhelmed the Texans, on the top seven boards, by a combined 9 to 5 score. This made all the difference in the world for RRSO XV. I think this all reflects well on the Oklahoma Chess Foundation because of the large number of FIDE tournaments they sponsor."

Jim Hollingsworth directed this historic event. He was capably assisted by Texans Tom Crane and Chris Wood. He was also assisted by two Oklahoma experts: Jim Berry and Joe Dean Veal. Adam Hart was Sergeant at Arms. The official photographers were Danny Dunn and Alex Horvath. Another Oklahoma expert, Mike Tubbs, was the official RRSO Scribe.

As all serious chess players know, the REAL Red River Shootout is a series of annual team matches between the most fanatical chess players in Oklahoma and Texas. Texas may have faltered this year, but still leads the series 9 to 6, despite playing on the road year after year. Next year's match is already scheduled for April 21, 2018, in Davis, Oklahoma. Recruiting season starts next January. More information will be available on the OCF website, the Tarrant County Chess Club's website, the Arlington Chess Club's website, the Texas Chess Association's website, and in outstanding chess publications such as the Oklahoma Chess Monthly and Texas Knights.

Two Championships.

Two great events by Texas Chess Association

By Lakshmana "Vish" Viswanath

This is the first year the TCA Scholastic championships were held in the North and then in South this month.

March 3rd weekend we had the North Chess Championship tournament in Arlington, TX. 481 players in 11 sections, at the Arlington convention center and Marriott Ballroom. 12 TD's and numerous volunteers. Gave 295 trophies and Medals to all. Luis Salinas was the organizer.

March 10th weekend we had the South Chess Championships, in UTRGV, Edinburg, TX. 1397 players in 9 section in an University setting. 28 TD's and numerous volunteers. Gave 315 trophies and medals to all. Bartak Maciega was the organizer.

I was the Chief TD for both tournaments. Overall we had an increase in number of players. I think next year it will be even more. North will be easily able to handle the numbers. The main concern I have for the North is a lack of tournament organizers in various cities willing to put a bid and run the tourneys. May be no one want to compete with Mr. Salinas' expertise and reputation.

The main reason to split the tournament was to make it more manageable from a size perspective. I think we will continue to have the same problem in the south. For the South, the numbers will continue to increase and there will be no relief to that even after the split. The good news is that, there seems to be enough organizers willing to bid for the tournament.

I also believe that we still could use a few good TD's at the higher local and senior levels. Need to identify and encourage them to climb the TD ladder. We also need to be consistent on sections and time controls for both locations. While the number of trophies can be increased for the south, there has to be a set minimum. Also the tradition of giving positive score trophies should be encouraged.

We need to continue to make sure that the tournaments are held in different weekends. This will guarantee that a player may be able to play in either or both tournaments. This needs to be advertised also.

Overall I was pleased with both events. South Texas is really growing in numbers. We will have another opportunity to evaluate this next year before the Super Texas.

Coach's Corner - e4!

Legends, Blunders and Dynasties

by Robert L. Myers

My Principal, Rene Sanchez, called me and said, "Coach I'm gonna need you to round up all of our chess players that won the Texas State Chess Tournament this year (2017) and last year (2016). We've won 7 State Championships in a row, either team or individual from the K-12 Grades or The Texas State Championship, North Texas, we've won either a 1st Place Individual or 1st Place Team. Hey, a win is a win. He continued, "Especially those chess players that went to Supernationals this year because the district is going to honor you guys next Thursday at the (Houston ISD) district office board meeting." We were a Top 10 Chess Team, in the U-1600 section, 9th Place (unofficially because of a scoring error, a blunder on my part. More on that error later). With over 910 teams, that is worth celebrating. How does one handle the news of being honored at the district board meeting from your principal as you are preparing for Las Vegas with your son, the Captain of the Chess Team, a staunch Michael Jackson fan, for the summer finale "One" a show at Mandalay Bay Resort and Casino, the same time we are to be honored? What do you say to your principal? Well, I was dumbfounded. I couldn't say, "Sir my son has been wanting to go to the Michael Jackson, "One" Tribute Show since The Millionaire Open chess tournament was in Las Vegas two years ago. I can't make it." Nope, you just take a deep breath and change your flight plans and cut the trip to The Hoover Dam and The Grand Canyon short. But, do you go to the Michael Jackson Show, it's Michael, he is a Legend? Hold on, don't move so fast. Patience is a virtue and a friend in chess, that answer comes later.

Everyone knows about the legend that is Supernationals, it's a spectacular spectacle, winsome, rich and warm, bundled in joy even if you don't win a single game. Supernationals is held once every four years all grade levels get together, elementary, middle and high school nationals all under one roof. And, what a huge roof it is, The Gaylord Opryland Hotel in Nashville, Tennessee with "2,881 rooms and suites. More than 750 garden atrium rooms overlook the hotel's 9 acres of indoor gardens, six grand ballrooms" the size of stadium football fields from 3,364 square feet to 55,314 square feet. That's one huge roof. The next Supernationals will be held in the year 2021. As a friend of mine said, "Supernationals, it's like fishing, you don't have to be good at it but you can have a whole lot of fun." That's exactly what 5,575 chess players did en route to breaking the world record of persons playing chess at the same time in one place had, they had a whole lot of fun. Mind you these chess players did so amongst a galaxy of living chess legends and dynasties. Grand Master Garry Kasparov, arguably the best to ever play the game of chess, had an enormous line to sign an autograph copy of his books. He's the one guy that took down Big Blue, the IBM Super Computer determined, if a computer can be determined, to destroy Kasparov in the famous Man versus Machine chess match. His autograph line for his new book, Deep Thinking, and How Life Imitates Chess, was 2.5 hours long wait. My buddy Michael Tisserand let me cut in line, shhh, that's our secret. Master Coach Bruce Pandolfini had an impressive autograph line wait also for his books, Pandolfini's Ultimate Guide to Chess, Square One, More Chess Openings, and Chessercizers. Grand Master Maurice Ashley was nearly attacked wherever he went. "What happens when 5,575 kids show up to the Supernationals and want autographs and selfies? You shut up, sign and smile!" said, GM Ashley. His book, The Most Valuable Skills in Chess were flying off the shelves. These guys are living legends. Guys creating dynasties were everywhere like Dr. Jeff Bulington, the tall six foot six Tennessean who teaches chess in rural Franklin County Mississippi, from the 60 Minutes special, "Chess Country," which aired on CBS on March 26, 2017. He chatted with me and New Orleans Chess Academy Master Nick Matta in the hallway down from our team room we shared with the generous folks from NOLA Chess, New Orleans Louisiana, Michael Tisserand and Leila De'Aquin. We head to Mississippi later this year to take on the Doctor's finely tuned chess prodigys.

Grand Masters Maurice Ashley, Sam Shankland, Timur Gareyev and Women Grandmasters Nazi Paikidze, Irina Krush, and Sabina-Francesca Foisor were all over the place making moves and creating fans. "For our nonchess friends, Irina is a 7-time U.S. Women's Chess Champion, Sam is a two-time Chess Olympiad Gold Medalist, Timur holds the World Record for simultaneous blindfold exhibition (he defeated 13 very strong 1400 - 1680 Chess Academy Knights in the Chavez library last year) Nazi is the 2016 U.S. Women's Chess Champion and Sabina is the current U.S. Women's Chess Champion," says GM Ashley. I was almost crushed, pardon the blatant pun, by Grand Master Irina Krush coming up the Grand Staircase heading to the Presidential Grand Ballroom. We laughed and immediately struck the pose for selfies. I only missed my buddy and world record holder for blindfold chess Grand Master Timur Gareyev by 10 minutes catching a plane to God knows where from Supernationals, he will be in Houston June 25 at Center 64. Wanting to take pictures after the "unofficial win" in the tournament, who else do we run into on the Grand Staircase on their way back to New York, none other than the winningest Coach in all of scholastic chess, Coach John Galvin, assistant principal/coach - going into his 20th year at I.S. 318, with a bevy of trophies. John is an incredibly passionately loving and gregarious guy. But really, does my friend need another trophy. Really? I mean really? They have won more chess tournaments than any other school in the country, including The Chess Academy and we've won 24 State and National Titles combined with all of our campuses. Now that's a dynasty!

You've heard of James Harden and Russell Westbrook scoring triple-doubles in the NBA, National Basketball Association, quite often here recently. Even arguably the best basketball player in the world, Lebron James has had the occasional "Double -Trip." But can you imagine averaging a triple double every game for an entire season?!!! Talk about legendary. As a graduation gift my Mom, Jo Ann Myers, flew me to Denver Colorado to visit my sister, Antoinette. I went to K-Mart to shop for something and in honor of the NBA -All-Star Weekend, years ago he was there, I met a living legend an amazing player and person, Oscar Palmer Robertson, nicknamed The Big O, the only player in NBA history to average a triple-double for an entire season until Westbrook came along. He was hosting a shooting competition inside the store. I entered and won. Youthful exuberance forced me to open my big mouth after the contest and say to him, "I'll bet you I can make more shots with my eyes closed than you can" wherein The Big-O looked down at me, slammed the ball into my tiny 18-year-old chest and said, "Ladies first." He destroyed me!!! He made 20 in a row with his eyes closed. His playing career, especially during high school and college, was plagued by racism. Yet just as Jackie Robinson did, The Big O rose above the stupid head of racism as well. Robertson is a two-time Naismith Memorial Basketball Hall of Fame inductee, having been inducted in 1980 for his individual career, and in 2010 as a member of the 1960 United States Men's Olympic Basketball Team and President of the National Basketball Players Association. He was voted one of the 50 Greatest Players in NBA History in 1996. He was ranked as the 36th best American athlete of the 20th century by ESPN. He is The Big-O, Oscar Robinson, a living basketball legend.

There were living chess legends at Supernationals and I hung out with most of them. I had met briefly with GM Maurice Ashley at the Millionaire Open a couple of years ago but my mind was blown at this meeting as I sat and talked for over an hour one-on-one about basketball, chess strategies, global travel, world events, our shared passion for chess, famous chess players, famous games, our top starting 5 basketball and chess players of all time. It was surreal. I initially showed him a picture of his book, Chess for Success, I was reading on a high-speed train in Paris to get the fan-worship elephant out of the way. I was sitting on a bench in one of the most beautiful hotels in the world with a legend and the "Ambassador of Chess" Grand Master Maurice Ashley, the first African-American Grand Master of Chess inducted into the Hall of Fame of Chess this year. He's coming to Houston on the 6th of January 2018 for Maurice Ashley Day. I left that meeting with my feet not touching the ground, I floated in a daze for the next several hours because he had heard of me from a mutual acquaintance. I took pictures with my buddy Fun Master Mike of ChessKid.com and the ChessMagnet.com owner and creator Hal Bogner. All legends with their own dynasties.

Coach Myers with Maurice Ashley

The Chess Academy

Warning: Chess Coaches, whatever you do please check after every round for your team's standings. What a blunder! Blunder: a chess term used for an clearly obvious mistake during a chess match, losing a major piece or forgetting a critical move. A blunder can be a combination of things, emotions like anxiety, nervousness or shear panic at any given situation. Whatever the case, I completely blew it. As in chess, all losses and mistakes should be counted as lessons. This was totally my fault as part of the duties of the coach. We missed the deadline for arbitration to get any scores or changes in the standings by coaches by one hour. I was infuriated and anyone that knows me would know that almost never happens. After 5 rounds of play at the most important chess tournament in a once in a lifetime opportunity for many of my players, we were in 25th place. Not bad for a few Texans. However; it was terrible because we were in that place with only 3 guys scores, Mateo, Marlon, and Gilberto. "Where in the heck is Sang's score?!" Sang D. my 18 years old senior and Lone Star Open Champion from Vietnam. By the way, when you are traveling on any airline in America and you are over 18 years old you will need a legal government identification. Sang and I missed the first flight to Nashville because Sang only had a school ID. Blunder #1, lesson learned. The return flight was worse, I was held up with Sang for 3 and a half hours as he was denied travel by Washington, D. C. and the TSA authorities at the Nashville airport because he not only didn't have his legal ID, his school ID was in the luggage. Where was the luggage? Loaded on the plane. Blunder #2, lesson learned. After much debate, I was denied by the chief tournament director to add my player's scores, which would have put us tied for 1st place at that time with several other teams. But because of the blunder we were ultimately in 35th place in our section, U-1600. Reasonably so, I had tears in my eyes from frustration at the mix up in placing all of my team members on our team. There was a mistake that could have easily been avoided if caught early enough. Time for my impassioned plea. I said to the Chief TD, tournament director, "Don't apologize to me save your apologies for the teams we will defeat because you made the error and didn't include our scores. Mistreat me, I'm okay, I'm a big boy. Mistreat my principal, he didn't become a principal wearing his feelings on his sleeves. Mistreat my parents, they're adults, they'll get over it. But please don't mistreat my kids. They've worked too hard, studied too long, practiced their butts off to get here. Don't mistreat them." My impassioned plea fell on deaf ears and rightfully so.

Ronald Reagan's famous dictum, "Trust but verify" is a page I should have taken from President Ronald Reagan's adviser on Russian affairs, Suzanne Massie.

When she was preparing the president for talks with Mikhail Gorbachev in 1986 she thought perhaps it would be great for the President to learn a few Russian proverbs. The one he liked best was "Doveryai no proveryai" — trust, but verify. I should have verified after each round. Blunder #3, lesson learned.

There are lots of moving parts in a chess tournament especially one of the magnitude of Supernationals. Those parts all work like a well oiled, finely tuned BMW when everyone does their part. Chess Control, the scorer's table, tournament directors, parents, coaches and volunteers are doing a very difficult job under tremendous pressure, it's really easy for something to fall through the cracks. This is also why chess is so extremely difficult, a lot is going on. Rooks want lift, Bishops want scope, Knights love jumping all over the place. Queens doing what ever an open straight line file will allow them to do, Pawns aggressively attacking diagonally while simultaneously striving for the back rank. Geeeze!!! It's no wonder more blunders aren't made. My blunder caught the attention of parents, the principal, TDs and of course my students. Verifying should happen before, during and after every round to ensure, round by round, the integrity of the tournament from the pairings throughout the results of round 1 and the final round, that the team members are listed correctly, coded correctly. Coaches are required to check the scores, pairings and such so errors can been caught early in the event that corrections need to be made. I did not do that until too late. Never again, lessons learned. The official results are published, and will not be changed. However; a copy of what could have, should have been our 9th place trophy is now proudly displayed in the campus main office even if "Top 10 in U-1600 section of the country" isn't official.

I must get back to Michael Jackson since we're talking about legends of basketball, chess and music. I'm almost certain Michael played chess or at least in the Michael Jackson: Searching for Neverland show airing on the Lifetime Network, his son Paris at the tender age of 5 in a home movie sitting at an elegant chess board made of gold and silver, picks up a beautiful six inch Rook and says, "Daddy, we should live in a castle like this." We must mention the legendary album

Thriller the biggest, "Baddest" album of all time but then there's Off The Wall, Invincible and Michael released two more albums posthumously. That's pretty amazing. When Michael introduced us to Wesley Snipes in the Bad music video, my thought "Mike's about to get his butt kicked." Wesley has a black belt in several disciplines but to our surprise, on the Bad World Tour Mike sold 4.4 Million tickets, has 15 #1 hits and remains #1 as the most purchased non-living artist surpassing even Elvis, has more Grammy Awards and is heralded as The King of Pop. So, I've decided, my son's not going on the Chess Academy's European Chess Tour 2017 this year, he's opting out for our Japanese Chess Tour in 2018, a smart chess move. So, I'll take him to see the "One" show in Las Vegas on my birthday, his first, my third time. Supernationals is a dynasty, I've made blunders, and the "One" show tribute to Michael Jackson is Legendary and he played chess.

At the awards ceremony at Supernationals I told my kids with tears in my eyes, "When they call out the names of the top 10 in our section in the country, scream, yell, cheer and applaud as loud as you can as if you are the champions because you are champions." After the awards ceremony, I shook the hand, very firmly of the chief TD and thanked him for his transparency and teaching us this painful lesson. Legendary? Maybe not. Blunder? Absolutely. Dynasty? Working on it.
