Dear fellow Texas chess fans,

First and foremost, I hope that everyone is in good health and even better spirits. Second, I would like to thank our regular article contributors for their wonderful submissions. Hopefully we'll even have an additional contributor for our next issue. We are always in the need of submissions so if you would like to contribute articles, annotated games, tournament results, or photos (with attribution information) to Texas Knights, please send your submissions to txknightsed@gmail.com. Third I wanted to say that I can hardly believe that I'm already working on my second June volume. Has it been a year already?

While I'm certain that many of us have been disappointed that our favorite over the board (OTB) tournaments have been cancelled, the silver lining has to be that online chess is seeing unprecedented growth and public visibility. Chess as an esport has skyrocketed in popularity as can be evidenced by both the number of new sign-ups for online chess chess services as well as the number of mainstream media outlets like the New York Times, the Wall Street Journal and ESPN all providing stories about online chess happenings. Chess has even garnered the attention of some very popular Twitch streamers which in turn have brought their audiences along for the ride.

The rising popularity of online chess has even brought about swift action by both the US Chess Executive Board (EB) and the Ratings Committee, which co-authorized the release of "Online-Regular Ratings" which allows US Chess online rated chess to be played at time controls of 30 minutes or more. This of course brings about two questions to my mind. First, how long will it be before we get to play regular OTB chess again? Second, will chess be able to retain or perhaps even build upon its newfound popularity once mainstream sports returns? I suppose that only time can answer both of these questions.

Speaking of the US Chess EB, the EB election is now in progress. For eligible, registered voters, please be sure to send in your ballot (don't forget the stamp). I'm not going to say that you should vote for Vish, but as a former president of TCA he would bring his experience and his Texas perspective back to the EB (he previously served a one year term). Of course, everyone should thoroughly research the candidates so that they can make a well informed decision.

Finally, speaking of elections, our very own TCA election is also coming up shortly. Please be sure to check the TCA website for important TCA election information as well as statements from candidates which were submitted for publication in this edition. Well, that's probably more than enough from me. Stay healthy, play chess and I hope to see you all back OTB real soon!

Sincerely,
Louis Reed

President's Note June 2020

The US Chess Executive Board Election is now here with ballots being distributed June 8th. Our Texas candidate in this year's election is Lakshmana Viswanath, more commonly known as Vish. He has served chess in our state for the past 20 years and has previous service time on the US Chess Executive Board. He understands the issues facing our federation and will provide a balanced and fair approach to decisions that must be made going forward.

Having Vish on the Board also ensures our voices in Texas are heard. You can find his candidate statement on the TCA Web Site and Facebook pages. After you vote for Vish another candidate you might want to consider is David Hater. I spoke with David about why he wanted to serve on the EB. His response was it's time to give back and he actually has to earn less money to sit on the board if elected. A third option is Sean Manross, he is lightning rod to be sure but you can't ignore his passion to do the right things for our game. This above all else comes shining through when you talk to him. We have more votes than any other state in the country. Let's use them and get Vish elected. Please consider all the other candidates fairly as you cast your ballot.

In my last column I mentioned playing in my first online tournament. Little did I know this would become the new normal for me as well as many others. I am quite anxious for the over the board (OTB) events to resume and they will. For the shorter time controls such G/5 or G/10 on-line certainly fills the need for competitive chess, but it does not replace the longer time control over the board tournament.

Every major event since State South was run has been cancelled so I ask every chess organizer to schedule and run an event as soon as your local and/or state municipality deems it safe. When you do this, you will need to consider the social distancing and other paradigms that the post COVID-19 era will mandate. An excellent reference for those policies can be found in the 2020 National Open in Las Vegas FAQ (<https://chess.vegas/national-open/covid-19-player-safety/>).

Lastly, same message every issue, and this is one I take very seriously. TCA has a HUGE perception problem and it's because people don't know or understand what we do. Tens of thousands, that's right tens of thousands of players show up and play our events that YOU make happen. The players and scholastic parents know somebody did something to make it happen, but there's not much thought past that. "We", the Texas Chess Association provide the organizational and execution infrastructure for chess across the State. When you support TCA by buying a membership or playing in one of our events, you're supporting chess across the state. Please focus on the talking points when you get engaged on the value proposition of TCA. Lastly, go play in or run an event, it's the number one thing you can do to support chess.

The Best I Saw in Chess

Posted by Alexey Root

At the start of the U.S. Championship in 1989, Stuart Rachels was ranked last. With no International Master norms, the 20-year-old amateur from Alabama was expected to finish behind the other invited competitors, such as Grandmasters Seirawan, Gulko, Dzindzichashvili, de Firmian, Benjamin, and Browne.

Instead, as the summary for The Best I Saw in Chess: Games, Stories and Instruction from an Alabama Prodigy Who Became U.S. Champion continues, “Rachels pulled off a gigantic upset and became the youngest U.S. Champion since Bobby Fischer. Three years later he retired from competitive chess.”

The publisher’s website provides sample pages. In those, Rachels refers to Zsuzsa (Susan) Polgar as “cute.” There is a tradition of describing women by physical characteristics. However, Rachels also describes Tim Taylor as “handsome” so he assesses both women and men by appearance even-handedly. And he doesn’t mention looks often. More often, Rachels shares stories about chess players.

Although stories adds color, the boldface-font (my highlighting) part of story about Grandmaster Maxim Dlugy seems unfair. Rachels wrote about Dlugy and Grandmaster Roman Dzindzichashvili at the 1989 U.S. Championship: “While [Michael] Rohde was thinking, Dzindzi began walking around the tournament hall with GM Max Dlugy, chatting in Russian. Dlugy, at that time, was probably the world’s leading expert on the Classical Sicilian with 7...a6 and 8...h6, and Max’s own ethics had sometimes been called into question [boldface added].”

1989 was before Dlugy was imprisoned in Russia for embezzlement, a charge he was acquitted of in 2005. And since he was acquitted, where are the questionable ethics? Dlugy is a former World Junior Champion and, in 1990, became the youngest United States Chess Federation President. I have met both Rachels and Dlugy; I don’t know either of them well.

On the bright side, Texan and FIDE Master Keith Hayward has a game (a loss to Rachels) in this book! Hayward has been a Texas resident since 1994, and is the only current Texas resident to have a game in Rachels' book. I emailed with Hayward, and 11...f6! (rather than 11...h6?) would have led to a slight advantage to Hayward.

Hayward wrote, "The 1990 Midwest Masters was a once in a lifetime tournament for me despite my loss to Rachels. It was a 7-round tournament. It went: R1 win against Expert Howard Wachtel (French), R2 win against IM Michael Brooks (Bird), R3 win against IM Tim Taylor (Bird), R4 draw against IM John Donaldson (Dutch), R5 draw against GM Leonid Shamkovich (French), and R6 win against GM Stefan Djuric (Bird). Hayward's email continued, "I was on cloud-9 with that win over Djuric. At 5 out of 6, I was ensured the U2400 prize, $450, which was the largest amount of money I had ever won. I also had secured my final norm for the FIDE Master title. I was insanely happy! I took a two-hour nap! For the final round, as you know, I was paired against Stuart Rachels. I had never heard of him before the pairing. We were the third board on the big stage. Typical school stage, 5 or 6 feet above the gymnasium floor. I was pumped to play this game. It was surreal standing up on the stage overlooking the playing hall. Next table to mine was GM Maxim Dlugy versus GM Tony Miles. I had a chance for about $4,000 with a win. Even a chance to share first place?!?! I could not have dreamed for more. Miles ground down Dlugy, not that unlike how Rachels ground me down. I felt I was in good form for that final game. Rachels' concept of 9 Nb3 and 11 Kf1 was completely new to me. I had no idea what to do, and I think my 11...h6?! was lame and 11...f6 had to be tried. I tried to fight back in the middlegame but he ground me down in beautiful boa constrictor style. Of course, I was upset, but the tournament as a whole was a fantastic success for me. I felt I gave it my best effort, but he simply played better and deserved the win. It happens afterwards I learnt he had won the US championship it did not make me feel better."

For Rachels' annotations on that Hayward game and dozens of Rachels' other games, buy The Best I Saw in Chess: Games, Stories and Instruction from an Alabama Prodigy Who Became U.S. Champion. I got the eBook version and it is very easy to click through each game and variation. If, as Black, you play the Sicilian or want a weapon against the King's Indian Attack, you will find many illustrative and helpful games. For beginners, the chapter on blunders and the Lucena position (in the Rook Endings chapter) are great places to start. An interview with IM Stuart Rachels, which also contains more games and stories from his book, is available on ChessBase.

Two Games that Changed the Chess World

Posted by Christopher Toolin

The Evans Gambit is an exciting opening that will sporadically make an appearance at the top levels. Nearly all chess players know of this famous sequence, but what about its creator, Captain Evans?

Captain William Davies Evans

Captain William Davies Evans was born in 1790 in Wales and made his first sacrifice at age 14 by joining the Royal Navy. He fought for the King in the Napoleonic Wars in the early 19th Century until 1815. In 1819 he became Captain of a postal ship, 'The Auckland' and became enamored with chess. His strongest opponent was Lieutenant Harry Wilson, the two played many casual games which unfortunately were not recorded. In 1826 while on leave in London, Captain Evans played the strongest Irish player Alexander McDonnell and the unknown (in the chess world) Evans revealed a version of the gambit that bears his name.

Despite some inaccuracies the game is intriguing, three years later Captain Evans would again stun McDonnell and change Chess history forever! Pull out a chess set and climb aboard with Captain Evans!

Captain William Evans – Alexander McDonnell, London 1826

1.e4 e5 2.Nf3 Nc6 3.Bc4 Bc5 4.0-0 d6 5.b4 This sacrifice takes the Bishop out of the center and gains time (moves) while getting the desired c3 and d4 Pawn moves in. A slight refinement of this idea will become known as the Evans Gambit! 5...Bxb4 6.c3 Ba5 7.d4 Bg4 8.Qb3 Qd7 A sensible move, my engine gives the fearless 8...Bxf3 9.Bxf7 Kf8 10.gxf3 exd4 9.Ng5 Nd8? 9...Nh6 was the only reasonable try 10.dxe5 dxe5 11.Ba3 Nh6 12.f3 Bb6+ 13.Kh1 Bh5 14.Rd1 Qc8 15.Rxd8+? Sorry Captain, this move is too fancy, 15.Qb5 Nc6 16.Bd5 drops the anchor! 15...Qxd8 16.Nxf7 Qh4?? 16...Qf6 17.Qa4 c6 18.Nd6 and White has more than enough compensation for the exchange 17. Qb5+ 17.Bb5+ c6 18. Qe6 leads to mate one move faster 17...c6 18.Qxe5+ Kd7 19.Qe6+ Kc7 20.Bd6#

Captain William Evans – Alexander McDonnell, London 1829

1.e4 e5 2.Nf3 Nc6 3.Bc4 Bc5 4.b4! The world's introduction to what is now known as the Evans Gambit. 4...Bxb4 5.c3 Bc5 Today 5...Ba5 and 5...Be7 have become the best options 6.0-0 Nf6 7.d4 exd4 The awkward 7...Bd6 may have been Black's only option 8.cxd4 Bb6 9.e5 d5 A thematic move still today, but White's initiative is too strong 10.exf6 dxc4 11.Re1+ 11.fxg7 followed by 12.Re1+ was stronger 11...Kf8 If 11...Be6 12.fxg7 Rg8 13. d5! 12.Ba3+ Developing with a tempo is a beautiful thing 12...Kg8 13.d5 Na5 14.Be7! I am amazed by the accuracy of White's play 14...Qd7 15.fxg7 Kxg7 16.Qd2 Qg4 17.Qc3+ Kg8 18.Qxh8!! Kxh8 19.Bf6+ Qg7 20.Re8#

White to Move. Mate in three.

This sparkling game sent waves throughout the Chess world. The newly christened 'Evans Gambit' was adopted by nearly all top players including La Bourdonnais, Staunton, Anderssen and Morphy!

If you can believe it, Captain Evans perhaps made an even more important invention! He created a tri-colored light for ships to avoid colliding at night. This light fixture is a precursor to modern day traffic lights. The British government awarded him £1,500 (roughly $200,000 adjusted for inflation) and the Czar of Russia added an extra £200 with a gold chronometer. Captain Evans passed away in 1872 at the age of 82, his age is wrongly given as 'eighty years and six months' on his gravestone in Belgium...a most unfortunate blunder.

Clash of the Collegiate Chess Titans – Results

Posted by TCA

By GM Bartek Macieja

On Saturday, June 13, 2020, The University of Texas Rio Grande Valley played an online chess match vs Kozminski University in the Clash of the Collegiate Chess Titans. After a close battle, the US back-to-back National Collegiate Champions defeated the current National Collegiate Champions of Poland.

Each team was composed of 8 students. The match was organized on chess24.com, the second most popular chess platform in the world, where some 3 million games are played every day. All games of the match can be seen on <https://chess24.com/en/watch/live-tournaments/usa-poland-collegiate-match-2020/1/1/1>.

Before the match, the Rector-Elect of the Kozminski University, Prof. Grzegorz Mazurek, and the Associate Dean for Student Rights and Responsibilities of the University of Texas Rio Grande Valley, Dr. Douglas Stoves, welcomed the participants and spectators.

During the match, live commentaries were provided by Grandmaster Pascal Charbonneau (Chess24), Grandmaster Bartek Macieja (UTRGV) and FIDE Master Antoni Szustakowski (on behalf of the Polish side).

The match proved to be a successful idea. It has already over 3,500 views on YouTube: <https://youtu.be/AkNQHwmgF8Y>

Eventually, after over 5 hours of battle at the world's highest collegiate level, The University of Texas Rio Grande Valley won 34.5 to 28.5, proving to have one of the best collegiate teams in the world.

2020 TCA Election – Tom Crane for TCA President

Posted by TCA

First let me say I am honored to have been elected and served as your President. Since my election I have traveled around the State for tournaments, whether playing or directing, to interact with our members. What has been accomplished over the last two years? We have transitioned to an online version of Texas Knights after finding a new Texas Knights Editor. The TCA finances which hadn't been audited in a substantial period now have been. The TCA website has undergone major structural changes improving its look and usability. The TCA Facebook content and frequency of updates has increased exponentially. The By-Laws have undergone the updates that were several years out of date. We have a Twitter presence and there was online live Twitch broadcast of games from the Texas Women's Championship with over 150 people watching it. The 2021 State South Scholastic was awarded to Dr. Americo Paredes Elementary Chess Booster Club in Brownsville. A substantial stipend was awarded to Jeffery Xiong for international tournament travel. Playing in these events helped Jeffery get into the Tata Steel Masters section this year.

What do I hope to accomplish in a second term? My number one goal is to leave the organization better than I found it. I have outlined my visions in my Texas Knights President's column and some of these have already started to become reality. Moving forward we need to:

1. Continue to grow and develop groups that bid on, and run major events. One organizer has carried the majority of the load for a long time, but they won't be doing it forever. We need more organizers to know if they bid on these events, they have a chance of getting the award like the Dr. Americo Paredes group did for 2021 State South. Running these big events gains the valuable experience necessary so TCA has experienced organizers to continue executing professionally run tournaments.
2. Continue to foster the development of the younger cadre of TD's that are joining the TCA ranks. It's humbling when you find out somebody actually reads what I write. In the Dr. Americo bid they specifically referenced my vision to give up-and-coming Local and Senior TD's the big sections, even if it means we have to split up the event to do this. In the Valley I also see the fruit of many years of scholastic chess as the young TD's who came through those programs are now volunteering at our TCA events. We need to continue to partner with these young men and women and provide them the opportunity be the Chief TD at the larger number events.
3. Continue to provide high quality content to the Texas Knights Editor. The magazine doesn't get content unless we send it. This seems to come in ebbs and flows and we need to smooth the ebbs and flows out where it's more consistent. One thing we can do is reach out at every event asking the organizer to send an article and pictures to the Texas Knights Editor. Additionally, if you contact the Texas Knights Editor, he'll give them information so they can populate the content themselves.
4. Improve support to adult chess, by far the drastically under-served community. At the Texas Women's the last two years we have seen young and mature adult women play our Royal game. After rounds and at lunch and dinner they congregate, visit and form bonds. We need more events that give adults the opportunity to play against adults while continuing our support of scholastic chess which is unparalleled by anybody in the United States. How do we support adult chess? We have to invest some money guarantying events, within reason, like I did recently for the Texas Senior if it runs August 1-2. TCA guaranteed the organizer $500 so he knows there's a backstop in case the event doesn't turn well. Given my experience at all sizes of events guaranteeing this is very low, if any risk.
5. Increase our overall membership numbers. There have been countless meetings on how we count and increase our membership numbers, every one of them a waste of time because they yielded nothing. So how do you normally get a membership; play one of our tournaments. However, if it's not renewed it expires unless they come and play another event and renew. This year is a boom year for expiring memberships as we had no Texas State and Amateur and as of this writing may not have a Southwest Open, the two major drivers of new and renewed memberships. If we had an online membership tool that sent a reminder the likelihood of renewal increases exponentially retaining our current, and tracking our new members as well. This over time will increase our membership.

6. COVID-19 Social distancing protocols are not going away meaning shoehorning many players into small spaces is not going to be acceptable when over the board events resume. Adapting our previous OTB tournament norms to the new norms will mean organizers must consider incorporation of policies such as those being used for the 2020 National Open in Las Vegas. I'm not quite sure I see myself cleaning the pieces between every round, but I guess we'll see. We as an organization must lead by example of what we incorporate as our tournament requirements when they return.

This election is about a stark contrast in leadership styles. It's also about creating a vision that's now being executed. It's about outlining meaningful specifics about HOW we do the things you read above. It's also about what I have done over the past 22 years HERE IN OUR STATE on a volunteer basis. I could, but chose not to get paid for working TCA events. It's about showing up at way too many TCA events to count and actually working setting up the event, on the floor the whole weekend, and tearing down the event. It's about playing in many tournaments where I have sat across from you, check the MSA, you'll see a very significant contrast here as well. I believe our membership knows us both well and I'll rest with whatever decision the electorate makes. I would appreciate your vote.

2020 TCA Election – Franc Guadalupe for TCA President

Posted by TCA

Dear Texas Chess Association Friends,

I am pleased to announce that I seek election to the Office of the TCA President. I believe that I am uniquely qualified for that position and, if so chosen, I endeavor to work tirelessly to contribute to the development and support of chess in Texas. I am a retired U.S. Army Chief Warrant Officer Four (CWO4) with over 23 years of active service to this great Nation.

During the last 20 years, I have been extremely involved at local, state, national and international levels, in the following positions:

- US Chess National Tournament Director
- FIDE International Arbiter, Category A (the only USA arbiter to achieve the top arbiter category in FIDE)
- FIDE International Organizer

- Florida Chess Association President, 2004 – 2005 (Resigned position due to permanent relocation to Texas)
- US Chess Executive Director (Interim), June 2013 – October 2013
- US Chess Director of Events, June 2014 to December 2017
- Former member of the US Chess Tournament Director Certification Committee (TDCC) and the FIDE Events Committee
- FIDE Zonal President for USA, October 2010 to August 2016 and January 2019 to present
- US Chess representative at FIDE Congresses in Krakow (Poland), Istanbul (Turkey), Tallinn (Estonia), Tromso (Norway) and Abu Dhabi (UAE). US Chess Representative accompanying and supporting players at International events (Durban, South Africa and Santiago, Chile). On behalf of US Chess and the Belize Chess Federation, traveled to Belize, Central America in 2009 to train their chess tournament directors and organizers.

Chess Awards:

- 2002 and 2003 Florida Brevard County School District Award (For contributions to the scholastic community while organizing scholastic chess programs)
- 2009 US Chess Tournament Director of the Year
- 2018 US Chess Frank J. Marshall Award
- 2019 US Chess Distinguished Service Award

Chief Tournament Director, Chief Arbiter and Organizer Experience

- Chief TD of many club, city, county and regional events.
- Chief TD of over 40 State Championships.
- Chief TD of 48 National Championships, including three U.S. Championships, one U.S. Women's Championship, three U.S Open, and two SuperNationals.
- Chief Arbiter of many international events, with many titled and world class players, including former World Champions Garry Kasparov and Veselin Topalov.
- Deputy Chief Arbiter of the 2016 World Championship Match between GM Magnus Carlsen and GM Sergey Karjakin.
- Organizer of over 35 National Championships including 14 in Texas (seven U.S. Class Championships, four U.S. Junior Open, two U.S. Senior Open and one National Youth Action)

As listed above, I have extensive experience dealing with players at all levels, from very young beginners to World Champions, and I believe in promoting the game we all love and treating all players, without regard to age, experience or rating, with dignity and respect. If given the honor to serve as TCA President, my goals, among others, are to:

- Support tournament directors, organizers and Regional Directors in promoting chess tournaments and activities for our players,
- Increase our TCA membership across the entire state,
- Promote cooperation between all TCA regions, and
- Assist in developing chess organizers and tournament directors in the State of Texas.

Respectfully,

Franc

Francisco L. Guadalupe

2020 TCA Election – Jim Hollingsworth for TCA Vice President

Posted by TCA

My Friends, I am pleased to announce I seek the Office of TCA Vice President and humbly ask for your vote. Chess has been good to me and the time has come for me to reciprocate. I am a US Chess Life Member with over fifty years of Chess Life magazines, in five stacks (one per decade), on bookshelves in my bedroom.

Yes, I've read them all.

Once elected, my demonstrated leadership, management ability, and business analyst skills will serve our Association well. I am a team player with extensive staff experience. My goals are to increase TCA membership and fundraising.

Selected achievements.

- Co-Founder, Red River Shoot Out (RRSO) (Organizer and Chief TD many times).
- President, Texas Armed Forces Chess, a 501(c)(19) charity.
- Chess Instructor, Fort Worth Veterans Chess Club.

Make a good move. Vote Jim 4 VP.

Go TCA!

2020 TCA Election – Forrest Marler for TCA Vice President

Posted by TCA

Hello, I'm Forrest Marler and I'm running for re-election as TCA Vice-President. Over the past 25 years, I have served approximately 12 years as Vice-President, as well as TCA Secretary, Director of Region V, and board member and past chairman of the TCA Scholastic Committee. I have also served on several USCF Committees.

I am a Senior TD having directed well over 200 tournaments since the early 1980's. I founded the Huntsville Chess Club and the Temple Chess Club and am a Life Member of both TCA and USCF. I started the Texas Women's Championship, and along with the late Larry Young, I helped create the very popular and successful Regional Scholastic Championships.

I would appreciate your vote, so I may continue to serve the great chess players and programs here in Texas.

2020 TCA Election – Renate Garcia for TCA Secretary

Posted by TCA

In difficult times like this, there are things we can control and things we can not. One thing we can control is our priorities. Another is our ability to vote to empower the Texas Chess Association to better serve all chess players in our state. I am the Regional Director for Region 4 and I am running to retain my position as TCA Secretary. My passion is chess. Please allow me to continue to serve you and helping TCA run smoothly and ethically.

Chess is not just a game. It is an important and fun activity. My family and I first joined TCA back in 2015 as family patron members. Since then we have attended many events and helped contribute to its growth. Not long after, I was appointed as Scholastic Representative and still hold this position today. Because I have attended many TCA meetings, I know how business is and should be conducted. Having a voice as a member is very important. Learning what you are voting on is also important, so a free flow of information is important too. Like many of you, I am an independent thinker. People like us don't like being in the dark. We need all the information on issues before making a move on an issue or across the board at play.

I am a tournament director and also the founder and president of the Crusader Chess Club of El Paso. Our club hosts events at various locations including several Public Library Branches every week. Seeing chess grow and being part of it is very fulfilling. Our "Tournament Library Series" of events that provides free and low-cost options to ensure chess enthusiasts have both rated and non-rated events. Coaching at Vista Hills Crusader Chess Club at Vista Hills Elementary School for several years helped me grow my skill. I became a US Chess Certified Club Tournament Director to support this growth. I have also recruited and helped others to become more skillful TDs.

My next step was to become an even better organizer. I established and organized the Crusader Chess National Chess Day tournaments and The Annual All Girls/ Women's Tournament, among many other annual and monthly tournaments.

I strongly support Scholastic, Girls, Women's, and Veteran's Chess. We still don't have enough girls playing chess in Texas. Together we can work hard to change that. Together we can raise awareness, support, and money for events and prizes painlessly. I am an experienced fundraiser. I raised funds for the 2019 Women's Chess Championship as well as organizing it. I support other organizers as well. I played in the 2019 Women's Texas Chess Championship and hope other women and girls can have that amazing experience.

Veterans need more chess events too. I established the Annual Veterans Championship of El Paso, which has seen substantial growth in our area. I developed strategic planning and leadership skill by being a family support member for FRG (Family Readiness Group) with my husband's military unit in Arizona and Texas. My volunteerism and leadership earned me recognition from the Governor of Arizona. I received the Molly Pitcher Service Award for my service. I continue to organize and run chess tournaments and simuls for Veterans Chess in the El Paso Area, including Fort Bliss. HOOAH!

If chess is to grow in Texas, we need to get more children playing chess. It all starts with coaches who know how to reach and teach kids. Parents play a big role in supporting and encouraging their kids to play as well. Teaching is a joy to me. Scholastic chess is not just for the few, the rich, or the smart. It's a tool for building sportsmanship and sharp thinking for all kids and having friends that turn into family. Our club is pro bono. We don't charge for it. We include and accommodate players of all abilities.

I have served as PEN (Project of Texas Parent) leader serving parents of children with disabilities by helping them understand their rights and responsibilities under IDEA law. I also serve as host for the Sensory Processing Disorder Support Group of El Paso. This involved facilitating meetings for caregivers. I was the Event Coordinator for "Fine Arts are Sensational, One Step at a time." This event brought together the medical and the Fine Arts programs including music and dance. I also organized a provider expo to benefit the Sensory Research for Star Center Institute for Sensory Processing. This is one of the reasons I have served as the US Chess Consultant for the Accessibility, and Special Circumstances Committee of US Chess on the Sensory Processing issues in children.

The way to help all players, no matter their gifts or challenges, is to make them feel more comfortable at tournaments or large events. There is always more work to be done. Please allow me to continue to serve you as your Secretary. I humbly ask for your support and your vote.

Yours in chess,

Renate Garcia, Incumbent and Candidate for Secretary of the Texas Chess Association

Please consider joining or renewing your membership to have your vote count in this year's election by July 1.

2020 TCA Election – Sheryl Mc Broom for TCA Secretary

Posted by TCA

Dear Texas Chess Association Members,

I am running for TCA Secretary and ask for your vote.

My professional experience, volunteer background, and education make me well qualified and suited to be TCA Secretary. One of the TCA Secretary's most important responsibilities is attending TCA business meetings and processing the minutes expeditiously in order for the Bylaws Committee to quickly update amendments and additions to the guidelines. This allows our Association to operate efficiently, fairly, progressively, and most importantly, to fully represent Texas Chess Association Members such as yourself. In the past 4 YEARS AND 10 MONTHS many decisions have been made by TCA Leadership and/or yourself, as "General Members". None of these decisions can go into effect until those business meeting minutes are transcribed. It will take a lot of work to 'catch up' on all of the business meeting minutes since August 30, 2015. I am qualified, and willing, to bring TCA minutes 'up to date' and, if elected, I will ensure that business meeting minutes are timely so that the Bylaws are current in accordance with the most recent board meetings.
